JOHN BOYNTON YOUNG ALUMNI AWARD

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
PRESENTS TO

ARLY C. DUNGCA '08

THIS AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF SERVICE TO WPI

ARLY DUNGCA, in the decade since your graduation, you have already had a transformative impact on your class and on WPI. We recognize you today for your leadership and contributions to your alma mater.

Your commitment to WPI has its roots in your undergraduate years as a student leader. Your active involvement in Greek Life with InterFraternity Council, your fraternity, SAE, and as an orientation leader earned you a Crimson and Gray Award. After completing your civil engineering degree, your career took you across the United States and abroad, serving as a US Air Force intelligence officer in the space industry to financial services in London. Despite all these career and location changes, your connection and willingness to help WPI has remained constant throughout the years.

You have served as a member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors since 2015, ensuring that the interests of young alumni are represented on the board. You have been instrumental in expanding and reimagining the role of the board's Graduates of the Last Decade Committee. Your efforts have resulted in a focus group that helps guide alumni and annual giving programming and reimagine programming such as the annual Homecoming GOLD event held at the Sports and Recreation Center.

A trusted leader among alumni volunteers, you are a founding member of the London Alumni Chapter and have played a key role in its development. Leveraging your professional network, you hosted the spring 2018 London Chapter event at the Royal Air Force Club, strengthening connections among students, faculty, IQP sponsors, and alumni within the WPI community.

Closer to your home on The Hill, you are co-chair of the Class of 2008 10-year reunion. You led the effort to recruit committee members and crafted an innovative, analytics-based approach to reunion planning. You also remain active in your fraternity, mentoring many of your brothers, helping to champion their recent capital campaign and advocating enhanced partnership with the university.

Arly Dungca, you serve as a role model for our young alumni, demonstrating the positive impact volunteer engagement can have on the university. The WPI Alumni Association is pleased to recognize you today with the John Boynton Young Alumni Award for Service to WPI.
