

Comparing and Contrasting
The Gingerbread Man by Jim Aylesworth
To
The Gingerbread Girl by

There are many similarities between The Gingerbread Man and The Gingerbread Girl. First both stories have characters that are made out of gingerbread. Second in both stories the gingerbread characters are chased by a cow, a little old man and a little old woman. Third both stories have the main character get eaten by a fox at the end. Those are three things that are the same about The Gingerbread Man and The Gingerbread Girl.

There are also many differences between The Gingerbread Man and The Gingerbread Girl. One difference is the main characters. The Gingerbread Man has a man and The Gingerbread Girl has a girl. Another difference is The Gingerbread Man and The Gingerbread Girl have some different characters. The Gingerbread Man has a dog and a cat in it and The Gingerbread Girl has a pig and a donkey instead. A final difference is the settings. The Gingerbread Man takes place in a village and The Gingerbread Girl takes place in a city. Those are the differences between The Gingerbread Man and The Gingerbread Girl.