Professional Experience

2005 – present CONSULTANT and
Professor and Director Emeritus
Center for Firesafety Studies
Worcester Polytechnic Institute

1978 – 2005 WORCESTER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE
Center for Firesafety Studies
Worcester, Massachusetts

Professor and founding director of the Center for Firesafety Studies, an interdisciplinary center of graduate education, research and technology transfer. Served as part-time director during the start-up of this new program 1978-1985, during which the first master of science fire protection engineering program in the United States was developed and launched. Assumed full-time position in 1985. First of its kind doctoral degree program established in 1991. First global distance learning program in FPE started in 1993.

Responsible for fund raising, faculty and organizational development, recruiting, marketing, administration and media relations. Appeared extensively in the print and electronic media including live network radio and television and recorded programming on the Discovery Channel, History Channel, PBS NOVA and Voice of America. Research focus in public policy and regulatory reform; developed new course in FPE business practice.

During the first 25 years this innovative program grew from the idea stage to become the acknowledged leader in graduate education worldwide. In 2004 the program enrolled some 150 students, including on-campus BS/MS, MS and PhD students as well as distance learners worldwide. The program has graduated over 400 students from 26 countries.

Transferred to position of Associate Vice President for University Relations in July, 2004 to achieve on-campus overlap with successor. Fully retired from WPI in July, 2005 as Professor and Director Emeritus of the Center for Firesafety Studies.

1978 - 1985 FIREPRO INCORPORATED

Wellesley, Massachusetts

Executive Vice President and Assistant Treasurer of this consulting engineering firm, specializing in all aspects of fire protection engineering, including building fire safety design, corporate risk management, fire reconstruction and municipal fire protection. Duties in the firm included consulting directly for clients, technical management, marketing, business operations and personnel. Member, Board of Directors.

1975-1978 UNITED STATES FIRE ADMINISTRATION
US Department of Commerce
Washington, D.C.

Deputy Administrator. Appointed by President Gerald R. Ford with the advice and consent of the Senate. Served as the first presidential appointee to lead the newly created United States Fire Administration (reappointed by President Jimmy Carter). Performed policy-level administrative duties under the Administrator. Had line responsibility for the operation of all programs including the National Fire Data Center, the National Fire Academy, the National Fire Safety and Research Office and the Public Education Office. Operated the agency-wide Management Council and oversaw internal operations, program planning, evaluation, monitoring and budgeting.

Represented the Administration in its relationships with outside organizations, the Congress, state and local governments and the media. Extensive speaking appearances throughout the U.S. and abroad.

1972-1975 OHIO DIVISION OF STATE FIRE MARSHAL
Ohio Department of Commerce
Columbus, Ohio

State Fire Marshal. Appointed by Governor John J. Gilligan. Policy level responsibility for fire safety throughout the State of Ohio, enforcement of fire and building code requirements, nursing home and hotel/motel licensing, fireworks and related statutes. Administrative responsibility for the Ohio Arson Bureau, Inspection Bureau, and the Fire Prevention Bureau. Oversaw development of the Ohio Master Plan for Fire Prevention and Control, the Ohio Fire Incident Reporting System (OFIRS), the Arson Crime Laboratory, and the new Ohio Fire Academy. Worked with legislators to develop a statewide fire legislation reform package.
Extensive media relations.

Chief Deputy Fire Marshal. Responsible for fire investigation and law enforcement; arrest and prosecution of arsonists; building inspection and code enforcement; adjudication of Fire Marshal's orders; public fire education; and training of fire service personnel.

Professional Experience (Cont'd)

First Assistant Fire Marshal. In addition to other duties, played a major role in drafting new firesafety provisions for the Ohio Building Code including residential, institutional and high-rise structures; developed and administered retroactive requirements for sprinkler systems in nursing homes, working in close liaison with the Ohio Nursing Home Association..

Chief of Fire Inspection Bureau. Responsible for operating the statewide fire inspection program. Authored the first Ohio Fire Code.

1968-1972 THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY
Building Research Laboratory
Columbus, Ohio

Lecturer in firesafety design for architects and engineers; proper interpretation and administration of the Ohio Building Code; developed and taught courses in building construction, fire protection systems and fire hydraulics at Columbus Technical Institute.

Research Associate, Building Research Laboratory, College of Engineering. Responsible for engineering and technical aspects of exploratory and ASTM/NFPA standard fire tests of building construction systems and materials. Performed extensive work in writing technical building code requirements for the State of Ohio, including the first statewide requirements for residential smoke detectors. Principal investigator and co-author of A Study Manual for Ohio Building Code Officials and the Ohio Dwelling House Code.

Evaluated plans and specifications for proposed modular buildings to assure compliance with the Ohio Building Code.

Private Consultant. Investigated fires, explosions and provided building fire safety evaluations.

1965-1968 INSURANCE SERVICES OFFICE OF OHIO
(Formerly Ohio Inspection Bureau)
Columbus, Ohio

Sprinklered Risk Inspector. Inspected wide variety of commercial, industrial, institutional and public utility operations. Conducted and reported on hazard analyses, evaluations of public and private protection, fire protection system tests and building construction reviews.

During this period, also served as Graduate Instructor, Dale Carnegie Course in Effective Speaking and Human Relations.

Education

Illinois Institute of Technology
B.S. 1965, Fire Protection and Safety Engineering

Registration

Professional Engineer Massachusetts, Registration No. 29858

HONORS AND AWARDS

Western Actuarial Bureau Scholarship, 1961-65; Four-year full tuition, room and board, Illinois Institute of Technology.

Outstanding Senior Student Award, Chicago Chapter, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 1965.

Elected to Salamander Honorary Fire Protection Engineering Society, 1965.

United States Jaycees Distinguished Service Award, 1971.

Columbus Jaycees Ten Outstanding Young Men Award, 1971.

Honorary Life Member, Middlefield (Ohio) Fire Department, 1974.

Distinguished Service Award, Ohio State Arson School, 1975.

Colonel and Aide-de-Camp, Governor's Staff, Executive Department, State of Louisiana, 1976.

Life Member, North Dakota Firemen's Association, 1976.

President's Award, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 1988.

Man of the Year Award, Automatic Fire Alarm Association, 1988.

Fellow, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 1989.

Gold Award, Audio Visual Communicators Association, for the video production "Careers in Fire Protection Engineering" (for Worcester Polytechnic Institute), 1989.

Who's Who in Engineering, American Association of Engineering Societies.

Harold E. Nelson Service Award, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 1993.

Honorary Member, Salamander Honorary Fire Protection Engineering Society, 2000.

John J. Ahern President's Award, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 2000

Arthur B. Guise Medal and Prize, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 2002.

Person of the Year Award, Automatic Fire Alarm Association, 2004

William R. Grogan Award for Support of the Mission of WPI, WPI Alumni Association, 2004

Person of the Year Award, New England Chapter, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 2004

Elected to The Skull Society of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, 2005

David A. Lucht Lamp of Knowledge Award, created by the Society of Fire Protection Engineers, 2005, to be given annually to individuals and organizations who stand out in support of higher education

PRESENTATIONS AND PUBLICATIONS

"Legal Requirements for Fire Alarms in Ohio Dwellings", Fire Journal, March 1972.

Ohio Dwelling House Code -- Principal investigator and co-author of this model code for one-, two- and three-family dwellings in the State of Ohio, 1972.

A Study Manual for the Ohio Building Code -- Principal investigator and co-author of this study manual for training Ohio building code officials, revised edition, August 1973.

Ohio Fire Code -- Principal investigator and author of this first Ohio Fire Code, 1973.

"Effective Fire Control for Life Safety", Project Administrator and Technical Director, production of color-sound 2x2 slide tape cassette program for this 20-minute technical documentary on automatic fire suppression systems in health care facilities; Austin Productions, Lima, Ohio; June 1974.

"Fire Eyes", Project Administrator and Technical Director for the production of this motion picture, a 27-½ minute, 16mm color-sound educational film (cleared for television use); Austin Productions, Lima, Ohio; August 1974.

Ohio Building Code -- Authored major revisions and new text, 1970-75, pertaining to firesafety in industrialized modular buildings; multi-family residential buildings, housing for the elderly; nursing homes; exhibition halls; high-rise structures; and the design, installation and maintenance of building fire protection systems.

Address, Ohio Fire Chiefs Association Annual Conference, Columbus, Ohio; June 1975.

After Dinner Speaker, International Fire Buffs Association Annual Conference, Columbus, Ohio; July 1975.

Address, State Firemen's Association of New York Conference, Niagara Falls, New York; August 1975.

Address, Ohio Arson Seminar, Columbus, Ohio; October 1975.

Address, 26th Annual Statewide Fire Prevention Conference, Jacksonville, FL; October 1975.

Address, Virginia Fire Prevention Association, Arlington, Virginia; October 1975.

Program Speaker, Fall Conference of the International Society of Fire Service Instructors, Newton, Massachusetts; October 1975.
